THE EASTERN SITUATION

Japanese Minister of War not Very Anxious to go to War With Russia.

(Bulletin Special Dispatch)
St. Petersburg, Jan. 19.—The war situation is unchanged. Indications now favor peace. The Japanese minister says that the points at issue with Russia are not worth going to war over.

VACANCIES IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS

Ottawa, Jan. 13.—The general impression prevails, as already stated, that there will be a session of parliament before a general election, and that being the case it will be necessary to prepare for the bye-elections and fill up the vacancies in the Senate.

There are now seven vacancies in the Commons and three in the Senate, and when Mr. Emmerson is sworn in there will be eight vacancies in the Commons. In his case it is not likely that there will be any opposition in Westmoreland. Moncton is the principal town in the riding and as it is the headquarters of the Intercolonial railway it would be hopeless as well as useless to offer any opposition to his return upon accepting a portfolio.

The other vacancies in the Commons are: Bruce East, caused by the death of Mr. Cargill; Hochelaga, Mr. Madore being appointed judge; Lambton East, owing to the death of Mr. Simmons; Montserrat, on account of the death of Mr. Martineau; Queen's P. E. I., by the death of Mr. Farquharson; St. James division, Montreal, through Mr. Brunet being unseated; and St. John, through the resignation of Mr. Blair.

The three vacancies in the Senate are to replace the late Senator Dieke, one in Ontario to replace the late Dr. Landerkin, and one in Quebec for the seat of the late Senator Cochrane.

Mr. Curry, who was appointed senator for Nova Scotia before the last session, has not yet taken his seat.

CLOVER BAR

Formation of Independent Political Association—Survey Operations.

The independent political meeting called at the Clover Bar schoolhouse on Saturday evening, January 16th, was fairly well attended, despite the cold and stormy weather. The house was called to order by Mr. R. P. Ottewill in the chair, who outlined the purpose of the meeting. Being an old timer, an extensive farmer and a close observer, he spoke from experience and showed that the North-west had suffered too long from railway monopoly. But he believed that in the completion of the Grand Trunk Pacific we would find relief. J. R. Boyle, and John Hovey, of Edmonton, were present and upon request addressed the meeting in a very interesting and instructive manner.

After a full expression of opinion on the public questions of the day, it was decided to form an association known as the Independent Political Association of the Edmonton District. The following officers were elected: R. P. Ottewill, president; Thos. Daly, vice-president; J. R. Boyle, secretary; and W. F. Wilkinson, St. Swift, W. D. Carstairs, Wm. Keith, Sidney Ottewill and Joseph Keith, Executive committee.

The following resolution was then adopted: "Resolved, that this association view with approval the manner in which Mr. Frank Oliver, M. P., has represented the constituency of Alberta in the Dominion House of Commons, and that we will use our best endeavors to secure his election for the Edmonton constituency."

The farmers of Clover Bar are hopeful of abundant railway facilities in the near future. A party of surveyors are at work permanently locating the line of the Canadian Northern through this settlement, and another has been employed for a week or more at the river, looking for a suitable crossing for the Grand Trunk Pacific. They seem to have found what they wanted, as they are now at work running a line from this point through the Beaver Hills to the south end of Beaver Lake.

The revival services being held at the Methodist church by the Rev. Finley have been well attended and considerable interest is shown in them. They will continue for another week at least.

A FARMER ON POLITICS.

Editor Bulletin.—I am a farmer living between Sunnyside and Bon Accord. I was at Mr. Secord's meetings at both of these places, and I was much surprised to see Mr. Secord try to address the meetings. By reading the Edmonton Journal any person not at those meetings would be led to think Mr. Secord can and did make a speech, but that is one of the things Mr. Secord can not do. I would like to know how Mr. Secord expects he could stand before parliament and state the requirements of a constituency and fight for the needs of the people, when he cannot stand before a few farmers and say anything. I am surprised at Mr. Secord undertaking a work which he can in no wise do, and I would ask my neighbors and fellow electors. What is the use of supporting a man who can't support or work for us? Remember Mr. Secord cannot take a lawyer with him to do the speaking for him at Ottawa.
